Get to the bottom of your heating problems

These are the bare facts ... Electric Heat offers a new concept of comfort and convenience for your home ... Electric Heat is safe because it's flameless ... Electric Heat costs less to install because it doesn't require expensive ductwork or chimneys ... Electric Heat is inexpensive to operate, thanks to low-cost rural electric power.

But most importantly, Electric Heat is so comfortable. That's because you select the best temperature for each room. There are never "cold" or "hot" spots!

Don't take our word for it. Ask your neighbors who heat the modern way ... with Electric Heat. Be sure to ask about how clean it is, too!

ELECTRIC HEAT

Whether you plan to build or re-model, it'll pay you to consider Electric Heat. Our heating specialists will gladly review your plans and make suggestions that will not only save you money but also increase the overall comfort and value of your house. There's no obligation, of course.

PVT. John Farrar In Parade Review

FORT JACKSON, S.C. Jan. 12 — Private John W. Farrar, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Farrar, of Evergreen, completed his Basic Combat Training on Jan. 15. This is the first phase of his active duty training and a part of the obligation he incurred upon entering the service.

While assigned to Company B, 6th Battalion, 2nd Training Brigade of this Infantry Training Center, he has been introduced to a wide variety of infantry skills, along with intensive physical conditioning. He attended classes in the tradition of the service, character guidance, and the role of the Army in the World Today.

Fort Jackson uses the U. S. Army's TRAINFIRE METHOD of teaching rifle marksmanship. Under simulated battle conditions, the trainee fires at pop-up targets at unknown distances on terrain which duplicates combat areas.

Basic training is climaxed by a graduation review before Major General Gines Perez, Commanding General of Fort Jackson. Outstanding Trainees are recognized in the ceremony that is open to parents and invited guests.

JOHN W. FARRAR

Pvt. Farrar is a 1964 graduate of Appomattox High School. Prior to entering the service he was employed by the Virginia Hi-Way Dept. as a time clerk.

Will Address Woman's Club Monday PM

Public Invited To Hear Artist

The Woman's Club of Appomattox will hold their monthly meeting Monday night, February 1st, at the County Library. There will be a business meeting at 7:30 p.m., and the program will start at 8 p.m. The program will be charge of the Fine Arts Committee.

Mrs. John E. Waldrich, of Sentry Oaks Farm on Route 460, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Waldrich is an artist of life-time experience, and paints under her maiden name, Georgia Warren. She and her husband came to live at Sentry Oaks, which is between Appomattox and Lynchburg, about four years ago, when he retired from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Her talk entitled "Are Artists Really Peculiar", and she will show a group of her paintings. Mrs. Waldrich had her first training as an artist in the Denver, Colorado, School of Art. She then went to Philadelphia where she studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts; then to New York, where she studied at the Art Students' league and at the Grand Central School of Art. At the Art Students' league she studied with George Bridgeman, and other well known teachers. She did commercial work in New York, then turned to Portraiture. Her work has been exhibited at the National Academy in New York, and hangs in a number of collections throughout the country. She is at present instructing a class in Portraiture at the Fine Arts Center in Lynchburg.

All who are interested in painting are invited to hear Mrs. Waldrich, whether they are members of the Woman's Club, or not.

Miss Flora Bell Williams is chairman of the Fine Arts Committee.

Buck Will Head Cancer Crusade

John D. Buck, Radford Commonwealth's Attorney, will again head the American Cancer Society's Cancer Crusade in Virginia, it was announced today by Dr. Robert J. Faulconer, of Norfolk, President of the Society's Virginia Division.

Memorial Gifts Honored Love Ones

"There is no gain except by loss," someone once said. If this is true, there must be a great deal gained each year in cancer control, because there are so many losses.

Thoughtful persons are turning these losses into victories by making memorial gifts to the memory of a loved one lost to cancer. These tributes to someone loved are a living memorial and mean that others will be helped.

"In Appomattox a memorial fund has been established to provide a practical and fitting means by which families or friends can commemorate a loved one who has died of cancer or other cause," explained Dr. A. A. Fratrick, Unit President.

Dr. Fratrick said that "Every memorial contribution, large or small, gives material aid to cancer programs of research, education, and service to patients. Memorial gifts received throughout the year are becoming increasingly important to the Society as more families and individuals become aware that they can contribute in the name of a loved one toward ultimate victory over cancer."

"Memorial funds should be sent to the Appomattox Unit of Appomattox," said Dr. Fratrick.

The goal of the April educational and fund-raising drive in Virginia is $750,000, according to Dr. Faulconer. Under Buck's leadership, receipts for the 1964 Crusade reached an all-time high of $748,843.

As the 1965 State Crusade Chairman, Buck will speak to volunteers from throughout the state at a Crusade Leaders' Conference to be held in Richmond, January 28-29. Attending the two-day meeting will be presidents and key Crusade leaders of the Society's 107 Local Units in Virginia. At that time plans for the public education and fund-raising phases of the 1965 Crusade will be presented.

Reading Methods Discussed At Concord Meeting

Mrs. Frances Mitchell, faculty member at Concord School, was guest speaker Jan. 4 at the meeting of Concord Chapter of the Young Homemakers of America, held in the cafeteria at Concord School. Mrs. Mitchell used as her subject, The Basic Methods of Reading with emphasis on the sound of words as an aid to pronunciation and help in correct spelling. Mrs. Joe Dutka, president, introduced the speaker.

Two new members, Mrs. Clyde Nash and Mrs. Arnold Ewers, were enrolled. Mrs. Gertie Barnes and Mrs. Claudia Murphy were visitors.

Mrs. Dutka presided. Mrs. Joe Cox conducted the devotions.

The co-hostesses, Mrs. Russell Rausch, Mrs. Dutka and Mrs. Cox, served buffet style at the social period.

Scouts Planning Benefit Party

Girl Scouts of Troop 311 are planning a benefit card party Saturday, February 13 at 8 p.m. The tickets will be $1.00 each. Proceeds from this benefit will be used to help defray the costs of a trip to Williamsburg which the Scouts hope to take March 12. Mrs. Roy Moon is leader of Troop 311.

The proposed two-day trip to Old Williamsburg will also include Cadette Scouts of Troop 331.

Scouts will be making several of the prizes — plus favors and other items for the party with a Valentine theme.

Spreading generous amounts of manure will build soil fertility by adding plant food, improving soil structure, improving soil tilth and increasing the soil's ability to hold water.
